TIMELY TOPICS

WHAT AMERICA NEEDS

If anyone knows at all the need of America "Wall Street" should know; thus we find the Wall Street Journal recently said: "What America needs more than railway extension, and western irrigation, and a low tariff, and a bigger wheat crop, and a merchant marine, and a new navy, is a revival of piety, the kind mother and father used to have—piety that counted it good business to stop for daily prayer before breakfast right in the middle of harvest, that quit work a half hour earlier Thursday night so as to get the chores done and go to prayer meeting, that borrowed money to pay the preacher's salary, and prayed fervently in secret for the salvation of the rich man who looked with scorn on such unbusinesslike behavior." This, too, is the kind of thing that this new Canada of ours needs. This is just the thing that laid firm and strong the foundation of our great sister country the United States, and we shall do well to learn from them that lesson. We hope she will not go too far from that ideal state, and we hope also that this country will not become too much enamoured of wealth, so as to forget that the secret of all greatness is not in material wealth but in character. Perish wealth, if through it we are going to forget the lessons our fathers taught us.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE

At a recent meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society, a strong plea for "women's suffrage" was made by one of the ladies. An indisputable point was made when she declared that "Nothing was lost by raising the women who were good enough to marry the best men in the land to the level of the foreigner, who could neither read nor write." And therein lies a mystery. Our mothers, our sisters and our daughters are not allowed that freedom in a free country which we give to the most illiterate and incapable of men. Ladies are proving themselves capable in so many ways, in the home, in the church, in business, and where they have the opportunity on local councils. And in the huge town of Oldham, England, a lady is mayor of the town. Yet they are not allowed a vote, they are not considered good enough to have a voice equal to the most debased and ignorant foreigner. Strange, very. Surely we men, to say the least of it, are lacking in chivalry.

We certainly are lacking in sense for keeping the ladies for so long out of our nations councils. A lady, the good Queen Victoria, was considered capable enough to sit upon the throne of the greatest nation the world has known. Indeed there are some who declare that her wise christian counsel and influence went a great way toward making that nation great; and women to-day in various spheres of life are taking a most important part, so that we cannot for long refuse them the honor of voting. Say! we shall then have to take greater care as to who we nominate as members of parliament. Then there will be many other beneficial changes we shall feel will have to be made.

Then hasten the suffrage for women, for such changes are already overdue, and if the suffrage will bring them about sooner, then the sooner it is given the better. Political house-cleaning is often necessary, and it takes a lady generally to do house-cleaning effectually. We will have to put up with the dust they will raise, but let us not stand in the way of them because of the dust they will raise, for better conditions always follow.

ONE IN SEVEN

No, it is not boot polish we refer to as one in seven, but the Sabbath day, that God-given institution, almost as old as man himself. There is a movement abroad, and has ever been, to pull down that great institution, but it is up to the working man, yea, up to every man, to do his best to defend it. Even to-day there are whispers abroad that some men are fearful of losing one day in seven from work, and there are rumors that here and there one has allowed his nerves to get the better of him, and horses have been hitched up and harvesting operations have been carried over into the "one in seven" day that is not ours for work. Needless to say that there is nothing to be gained in doing this. If anything needs the one in seven the poor horses do. But men also need it. Don't infringe upon that day. It is not ours to perform work in. It is given us to rest, to think, to worship. Alberta has a fairly good name for Sabbath observance thus far, let us keep it, and if six days is not enough in which to do sufficient work to make us tired, we can always get up earlier in the morning or work later at night.

Surely we do not wish to go back to heathenism and ride roughshod over one of the most blessed evidences of christian civilization, the Sabbath day. We do not need to remind ourselves of the scripture injunctions respecting the one in seven. We know the use of it. Let us then whittle down the Sunday necessary work to a minimum, and make the most of that opportunity affords of rest, relief from care and worry. Good books are plentiful, and good papers also. The church church service and the Sabbath school do not monopolize the whole of the day. Let us cultivate still our musical and vocal talents and make our homes resound with the songs we used to sing years ago in the old home, and we shall return to the worry and toil on Monday with renewed vigor, as our fathers did, and shall feel that there is something in life to live for after all.

So far, the result of the conference, which was held at Lethbridge last week, and from which so much was expected, is not yet known. It has been quite freely stated at Coleman, although not officially confirmed, that the negotiations between the union and mine operators have been broken off, and that nothing has been settled. The near approach of winter makes it imperative that something should and must be done to end the strike.

Thanksgiving

Mother nature has been good to each one of us, and if we would only realize this fact we would save ourselves much unhappiness. It is well to remember this as our national Thanksgiving Day comes to us next Monday. To each one has been given some degree of beauty which should offset many defects and cause us to accept them without making ourselves unhappy.

We are not always thankful for our blessings. Indeed, we frequently lose sight of them entirely because we are so very busy grumbling over the things which do not happen to suit our fancy that our vision is obscured. We fail to make the best of our good points, because we spend all our time fretting over our real or imaginary defects.

If we are in earnest in our determination to make the most of the beauty which Mother Nature and a wise Providence has endowed us, our first effort should be to acquire a well-poised mind—a mind which is not disturbed by the small irritations of every day life; a mind which is open to the harmonious things and closed to all that would cause disharmony. How shall we go about making this change in our mental state?

Sound Advice

FARMER—Well wife, the barn wants painting, the fence is down, the chickens are in the garden, the doors are off the granary, the pump's no good, we haven't a knife that we can cut the meat, the feed-m is full of holes, the house is swarming with flies, the chickens are covered with lice, we haven't got a decent chair to sit on, the buggy squeaks worse than a German band, the cows swallowed the wire stretchers, and the pig ate the hammer. I think I'll quit farming.

WIFE—Let us go and see McMeekin & Scragg and get the place fixed up. We're going to have a good crop this year, and I know the boys will treat us right.

Oct. 31st is Halloween night.
Many of the youngsters in the village are already preparing for their annual pranks.

During the winter months the services at the Methodist church on Sunday evenings commences at 7 o'clock. Service commences with fifteen minutes song service.
Everybody is invited to take part in the song service, and a hearty welcome is extended to all.

The farmers around here are feeling the car shortage badly, although the C. P. K. R. are doing their best to supply the demand.
Some seventy are needed at once, and now on this number will be increased until the threshing is finished, which will take several weeks yet, so great is the crop.

All things are about ready for the concert in the Presbyterian Hall on Monday night. The Ladies' Band is reported as very good indeed. The Witches, Jacko'-Lanterns, etc., are being marshalled in fine form, while Fred and Maw Contassel are having the usual troubles in getting their family ready for company.

Monday being Thanksgiving Day there will be the usual Thanksgiving services in the Presbyterian Hall, but on Sunday instead of Monday. Preparations are being made to observe this holiday by holding the annual Harvest Home Festival, the advertisement of which is to be found in another column.

On Sunday next, Oct. 29th, the Rev. O. E. Mann will speak on "Echoes from the Laymen's Missionary Convention." That important gathering is being held this week. All cannot attend who would like, but you can, however, do the next best thing, hear from one who is attending the convention.

Comment of western morning papers on the census returns is pretty unanimous in expressing dissatisfaction in total of but little more than seven millions for the Dominion, whereas official forecasts had given as high as eight millions. This discrepancy is largely explained on grounds of faulty collection of returns of the present census and of swollen figures last census.

Very soon Christmas will be you made your selection early.

Presbyterian Harvest Home on Thanksgiving Day.

Miss Bertha Smith of Reid Hill is visiting her sister, Mrs. J.
L. Sloane.

The C.C. ranch have purchased 500 head of cattle from up north and having them shipped to Cayley. Several cars arrived here on Monday.

The bible school hour of the Presbyterian church is 10.15 every Sunday morning. The study this week is a Thanksgiving Psalm, a most fitting lesson for the season.

The C.P.R. are enlarging the platform at the station here some 100 feet to the north to the crossing, which will be greatly appreciated by the travelling public to and from Cayley.

J. L. Sloane has purchased the residence occupied by G. Wickens and formerly owned by the Nanton Lumber and Grain Co. Mr.
Wickens has rented rooms over Macdonald's store.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated by the Meadowbank Presbyterian congregation last Sunday, Messrs Cas-pell and Sinclair, elders at Cayley, going there to assist.

B. M. Golliday of Reid Hill has raised some mammoth Swede turnips this season, ranging from 16 to 23 lbs each, exclusive of trimmings. At the present time one is exhibited in Cayley in F.
F. Macdonald's window weighing over 20 lbs.

The annual convention of the Macleod Teachers' association will be held in the public school, Macleod, on Thursday and Friday, October 26 and 27. Teachers may buy single tickets to Macleod with standard certificates for reduced return fare.

Rev. E. T. and Mrs. Bishop of Innisfail were visiting his brother, Fred H., for a few days last week and the first of this week. The reverend gentleman preached an excellent discourse in the Methodist church here last Sunday evening, which was much appreciated by the large congregation present.

On Friday evening, Oct. 27th, the Rev. O. K. Johns, who is Methodist missionary now home on furlough from China, will speak at the Methodist church, Cayley, on missionary work in that country. Service to commence at 8 o'clock. A hearty invitation is extended to all. Just now when China is undergoing radical changes, such a visit will be additionally interesting. Come and hear him.

The annual fall convention of the Alberta Sunday schools takes place in Edmonton this year, the dates being Nov. 8th, 9th and 10th. There is a request that all who may be able to go as delegates should hand in their names at once. The schools of this district should have at the least one delegate from each. The railway fare will be single first class, with free return on the standard certificate plan. All delegates will be entertained on the Harvard plan, bed and breakfast free.

J. W. Lucas is one of the many farmers in the Cayley district who will make good this year. He threshed some of his grain and so far some of his wheat goes 57 bushels to the acre. The wheat is the Lodoga variety, obtained three years ago from Fort Ver-million, Peace River. The first year the yield was 38 bushels, last year (the drought year) 15 bushels, and this year 57 bushels. This season on 70 acres of oats he obtained 105 bushels to the acre. That's going some.

It is impossible to give definite rules in such a matter. A few suggestions will be helpful, however. One of them is, to stop worrying over things which you cannot help. Do all you can to improve matters, but do not allow yourself to worry. It is the most useless habit you can get into, and also one of the most harmful in effect on both mind and body.

Another suggestion would be to avoid nagging and fretting as you would avoid a pestilence. These are two of the worst of all mental indulgences as far as their effect on the face is concerned. Make your face a beautiful one because it reflects the beauty of a harmonious, well-poised mind.

Mental poise can be yours with a little daily effort, and it is worth working for. It means happiness and health and beauty. Happiness for the home and the family and the friends, as well as health and beauty for yourself.
